L.C. Swain Middle School's "Say No to Drugs, Say Yes to Education, Culture and Golf Assembly" Features LPGA Executive Director and Entire Student Body

Ten L.C. Swain Female Student Golfers', To Attend Assembly and LPGA Tournament at Trump Int'l.

The entire student body at L.C. Swain Middle School will attend the "Say No To Drugs, Say Yes to Education, Culture and Golf" assembly at the school at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, November 18, 2008, featuring golfer and LPGA Foundation Executive Director Patricia Browning. The school is located at 5332 Lake Worth Rd., Greenacres. The program is sponsored by Inner City Youth Golf, Inc. Media representatives are invited.

Ten L.C. Swain Middle School female student golfers, recent inductees into the Inner City Youth Golfers, Inc., have been invited to attend the ADT Championship at Trump International Golf Club on Saturday, November 22, 2008 and will be showcased at the assembly. The student will get to see some of the worlds top female golfers who are participating in the Tournament, which runs from November 18-23. (See details below.)

"The message is very important for our students, and particularly for our female students," said L.C. Swain Middle School Principal Ed Harris. "Our students can succeed, and are excelling, in all areas, and we want them to see some of their own peers who may be on the verge of great success through the game of golf."

"We are proud of these students and the skills they are developing," said Malachi Knowles, founder of Inner City Youth Golfers and the African American Golfers Hall of Fame. "When other students see what these girls have accomplished, it should help many more to reject negative behaviors and drugs and take up golf as a wholesome sport for life," he said.

Knowles, local elected officials and other dignitaries will attend the assembly and encourage the students to pursue excellence in their education while having fun with the game of golf. See attachment for complete assembly agenda and speakers list.
